

Bowling Alignment Responses

School	Name	Position	Comments
Beechwood (Ft. Mitchell)	Ben Zimmerman	Athletic Director	Need to switch Boone Co-Cooper-St. Henry with Scott- Holy Cross
Bowling Green (Bowling Green)	Gary Fields	Principal	Looks good to us at BGHS.
Bryan Station (Lexington)	Chad Luhman	Athletic Director	The bowling alignment looks well designed to me.
Butler (Louisville)	Mike Crawley	Athletic Director	No issues with the region that we were assigned.
Campbell County (Alexandria)	Steve Hensley	Athletic Director	In talking with our coach, here is our comment. Scott is in our district for other sports and we see Newport had been omitted and they should both be added to the East Northern Ky. Region. We think because of location, Boone County, Cooper, and St. Henry should be moved to the West Northern Ky. Region. If another school moves to the East region it should be Simon Kenton not any of the Boone County schools again because of location.
Central Hardin (Cecilia)	S. Bauer	Coach	Bullitt Central should be aligned with the Louisville area schools, as they are the majority of who they play. When contacted to play region 2 teams, they did not want to play.
Graves County (Mayfield)	Michael Delaney	Coach	I realize that due to the competing schools in the Western end of the state there is no other way to draw the lines. That does not however, make it any easier to schedule those schools during the regular season. They refused to come down to Mayfield or Paducah. We have to travel to them if we wish to have any competition at all. The situation is unfair and unfortunate. The 5 schools in Warren County can face each other without issue. That leaves the other two schools in the region without competition unless we have very deep pockets for travel, which we do not.
Harrison County (Cynthiana)	Brad Allison	Athletic Director	The bowling alignment is fine with the coaches and athletic department at Harrison Co.
Lafayette (Lexington)	Nancy Hohensee	Coach	I do not see Tates Creek listed and they have a boys and a girls team this year They should be listed with Lafayette, Dunbar, Henry Clay, Bryan Station etc.
North Hardin (Radcliff)	Dan Robbins	Coach	I would suggest that the Bullitt Co. Schools be moved into Region 3 and 4. Based on all other sports, Bullitt Co schools are aligned to participate with the Jefferson Co schools already. I think it would be costly for Bullitt Co to compete over 2 hrs away with Taylor Co, Green Co and Cville. Also when Hardin Co. Schools attempted to contact any of the three Bullitt Co. schools to set up matches we were ignored. Not even a response that they had a schedule set up already. They play a master schedule with all the Jeff. Schools and have basically refused to play Hardin Co. in a regular season match. All the other schools in the Region 2 have met and are all on the same page.
North Hardin (Radcliff)	James Slaven	Athletic Director	We feel that the three Bullitt Co. Schools should be in the two Jefferson Co. regions instead of the mid ky. Two valid reasons for this, 1-they are aligned with the Louisville schools in all other sports, 2-when attempting to contact them for bowling matches they never responded and then we see a master Louisville schedule where they are match playing all the Louisville schools already. We know that the Louisville schools appear to be heavy with numbers, but we have to take into account the number of all boy and all girls schools they have. Thanks for the consideration.
Rowan County (Morehead)	Ray Ginter	Athletic Director	This draft alignment seems to be done very well (as far as Rowan Co's region) considering the low number of participants.
St. Henry District (Erlanger)	Jay Graue	Athletic Director	The alignment looks OK, but if you are going to use geography (east/west northern Kentucky) there are several schools including our own that should be in the west category.
Trinity (Louisville) (Louisville)	Joe Fowler	Coach	Looks good. Are 1 or 2 teams in each Region going to State Tournament?
Waggener (Louisville)	Glendale Zell	Athletic Director	Looks good. We hope to add bowling next year if interest supports it.
Warren East (Bowling Green)	Jonathan Vincent	Athletic Director	Looks good. Warren East fully supports this alignment.
West Jessamine (Nicholasville)	Dean Geary	Athletic Director	The proposed Draft sent on 1/9/12 is OK with West Jessamine.
