Rave Reviews:

I used the site to raise money for a charity bike ride I did with my kids, ages 10 and 4. The site was intuitive, easy to use, and a convenient one-stop-shop to send people interested in our ride. We set up our donation page so that people could help us buy equipment for the ride or just make a donation to our charity. I will definitely use the site again for our next family fundraiser.

I had been attempting to fundraise to get my son a service dog. The money coming in was slow going. In this day and age, not many people want to put a check in the mail, so I searched for other methods for people to help with our plight. A friend mentioned Deposit a Gift and told me to check it out. I took a few days and really checked out the ins and outs of the website and finally decided to try it. I'm SO glad I did! This was by far the best and easiest way to have people get money to us. This site played a crucial part in being able to get my son the help and independence he needs as he grows and I am so thankful!
