Introduction

Every school system has its own story to tell. The context in which teaching and learning takes place influences the processes and procedures by which the school system makes decisions around curriculum, instruction, and assessment. The context also impacts the way a school system stays faithful to its vision. Many factors contribute to the overall narrative such as an identification of stakeholders, a description of stakeholder engagement, the trends and issues affecting the school system, and the kinds of programs and services that a school system implements to support student learning.

The purpose of the Executive Summary (ES) is to provide a school system with an opportunity to describe in narrative form the strengths and challenges it encounters. By doing so, the public and members of the community will have a more complete picture of how the school system perceives itself and the process of self-reflection for continuous improvement. This summary is structured for the school system to reflect on how it provides teaching and learning on a day to day basis.

Description of the School System

Describe the school system's size, community/communities, location, and changes it has experienced in the last three years.

Include demographic information about the students, staff, and community at large. What unique features and challenges are associated with the community/communities the school system serves?

The Nelson County School District is a system on the move. Encompassing nearly 423 square miles, the district serves nearly 5,000 children in pre-kindergarten through 12th grade and is comprised of eleven schools on eight campuses throughout Nelson County. The district is in the process of renovating and expanding Nelson County Early Learning Center Facility along with the construction of an auditorium at Thomas Nelson High School. The technology department has worked to increase bandwidth from 45 to 500 and upgraded the wireless infrastructure at Nelson County High School. Our schools continue to purchase technology and to upgrade existing systems and workstations with portable technology.. Districtwide Google Apps For Education has been implemented at all levels K - 12.

The Nelson County Schools are also developing and perfecting educational practices that place the instructional needs of ALL children at the core. The district believes in placing the needs of children first and is working hard to expand this focus with a vision that places professionalism, technology, communications and excellence as the foundation of our mission, vision and belief system districtwide. The Nelson County Schools are working to create a culture that adheres to consistent enforcement of high expectations for all and believes academic excellence and growth should be recognized and celebrated for students and staff. For the 2014-15 assessment cycle our KPREP data revealed the following: The Nelson County School District is Proficient, Boston Elementary School is Distinguished, Bloomfield Elementary is Proficient, Boston Middle School is a School of Distinction and Distinguished, Bloomfield Middle School is Proficient, Nelson County High School is Distinguished and Thomas Nelson High School is a School of Distinction and Distinguished. In support of student success, the system's operational and support staff, administrators and teachers, are urged to collaborate within and across groups to ensure the highest quality of work through content cadre, weekly PLC meetings and professional learning. The faculty and staff work to ensure academic excellence through the delivery of high quality, rigorous, and differentiated instruction. The school system is intent on providing professional growth opportunities to support this excellence through on-going job embedded professional learning for all certified and classified staff across the district. Technology is used to engage in high levels of student learning. Our district seeks to maximize resources while creating a 21st century learning environment that equips students with skills needed for success at college and in a career. The Nelson County School District has made a major commitment to technology by expanding the wireless internet band width, Chrome books and various instructional computer programs. The district believes communication is a critical component for student success. The district strives to provide consistent and regular communication at all levels through various means of delivery including video clips and social media. The district vision includes the belief that optimal learning can happen for each child through adherence to the values of fairness, individualized learning, high expectations, respect and professional growth. Through the use of web-based technologies, parents can now monitor their students' grades in real-time and have a direct line of communication with teachers.

Nelson County School District and the Nelson County Area Technology Center coordinate their programs and work closely to prepare students to be college and career ready. The school district offers job exploration opportunities in the elementary and middle schools and on-the-job training, mentoring and job shadowing at the high school level. The high schools also now offer opportunities for post secondary educational experiences in collaboration with Western KY University for dual credit coursework in math, English, science and social studies. With more than 300 support personnel and 350 certified teachers and staff, a majority of whom hold a master's degree or higher, the personnel of the Nelson County School District strives to provide an atmosphere where we Expect the Best of everyone everyday.

System's Purpose
