Dollar General's commitment to literacy began with J.L. Turner, co-founder of Dollar General. With only a third grade education, J.L. was able to overcome tremendous odds and launch a successful retail business. As an extension of Dollar General's corporate commitment to literacy, the Dollar General Literacy Foundation was established in 1993 to help increase the functional literacy of adults, families and children.

Funding Focus

The Dollar General Literacy Foundation will award adult literacy grants to direct service providers in one or all of the following focus areas only:

- Adult Literacy
  - Adult basic education
  - GED or high school equivalency preparation
  - English for speakers of other languages

Grant Maximum: $15,000

Reporting Requirements:

Organizations receiving funds from the Dollar General Literacy Foundation are required to provide a year-end report (April 8, 2017) detailing the progress that has been made toward the objectives outlined in the approved proposal. Organizations will be required to report the number of students served, hours of instruction provided, student education gains, and detailed budget information. Organizations that do not comply with reporting requirements will not be eligible for future funding from the Dollar General Literacy Foundation. You will receive an e-mail notification once your impact report is available for completion online.
