RE: Technology Devices – Fixed Asset Reporting

Prior to FY2013, all technology devices were accounted for in MUNIS, inventoried and depreciated, regardless of the cost of the technology item. In FY2013 KDE issued guidance and recommendations for capitalizing assets, including an acquisition cost threshold of $5,000.

The Board adopted the $5,000 threshold and we ceased tracking new technology device purchases in MUNIS when the acquisition cost fell below $5,000. Each school was assigned the task of inventorying their technology devices.

Last year I inquired of Gilbert Brown, our auditor, how we should handle the technology items on our financial statements that are depreciated out or soon to be depreciated out, since they are no longer required to be capitalized. He advised that once fully depreciated, we remove the items from the financial statements.

In speaking with Eric, some of the old devices were used for replacement parts. Most of the items are still in use. The information provided is to inform you of the devices we are or will be removing from the financial statements once the item is depreciated out.
