

GOVERNOR'S COMMONWEALTH INSTITUTE FOR PARENT LEADERSHIP

PRICHARD COMMITTEE FOR ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Report to Board of Directors of NKCES November 2016

Governor's Commonwealth Institute for Parent Leadership (GCIPL)

NKY GCIPL Final Day was held Saturday, October 29th at Receptions in Erlanger. The day began with a presentation about the Northern Kentucky Education Council by Polly Lusk Page. Polly encouraged the class members to become involved in the Council initiatives, focusing specifically on the Action Teams.

For the remainder of the day, class members began developing the Action Plans for their school projects.

A big thanks to Gretchen Dorn, 2015 GCIPL Fellow, who spent most of the day with us, giving Action Plan advice.

In addition, the following joined us in the afternoon to lend their support:

Jeff Aulick and Bobbi Brothers, Bracken County and Taylor Elementary

Jach Ashley and Kal Steinberg, Beechwood

Jeremy Dodd, Williamstown Elementary

Jane Daly, Ruth Moyer Elementary

Julie Pile, 2012 GCIPL Fellow, Boone County Schools

Hats off to our corporate funders – Toyota, State Farm, Duke Energy and St. Elizabeth – for their support of the 2016 NKY GCIPL program. And to Citi for hosting us for Days 1 and 2.

Listed here are the GCIPL Graduates, now 2016 GCIPL Fellows

Participants were required to attend all 5 days of training and are learning about Kentucky's education and accountability systems, examining multiple sources of data, and learning skills to collaborate with school staff to write an Action Plan for a project in their school focused on student achievement, engaging other families, and having a lasting impact. We are also asking them to align their Action Plan with at least one of the Missing Piece objectives included in your school planning efforts: Relationship-building, Communication, Decision-making, Advocacy, Learning Opportunities, and Community Partnerships.

We ask the participants to work in partnership with their school leadership in determining a required project and in writing their Action Plan for that project. The best approach for this work is to identify a project in one of these areas that the school has already identified as a need or is included in their planning for the coming year or in the near future. Helping meet an objective set by the school will provide real-life experiences for the GCIPL participants and will help the school meet its objectives, a win-win. PLEASE CONFIRM WITH THE PRINCIPALS OF THE SCHOOLS NOTED ABOVE THAT SUPPORT OF THE GCIPL PROJECTS IS CRITICAL FOR THEIR SUCCESS.

Supporting Parent Engagement in NKY Districts

Prichard Committee staff – Brigitte Blom Ramsey, Cory Curl, and Helen Carroll – continue to look at the future of GCIPL in Northern Kentucky. Based on input from many NKY Superintendents, from NKY GCIPL Fellows, and evaluations of the program itself, a new plan for reaching even more parents at various levels of engagement will soon be presented to the Prichard Committee Board and then to NKY superintendents at a future Board meeting.

IT'S NOT TOO SOON TO BEGIN THINKING ABOUT PARTICIPANTS FOR 2017 GCIPL.

YES, WE WILL BE OFFERING SOME NEW OPTIONS FOR PARENT ENGAGEMENT/INVOLVEMENT BUT WE WILL CONTINUE WITH A FOUR OR FIVE DAY GCIPL IN 2017. HOWEVER, WE WILL NO LONGER BE ACCEPTING UP TO 30 PEOPLE IN THE CLASS. BEGINNING NEXT YEAR, WE WILL LIMIT THE MULTI-DAY SESSIONS TO NO MORE THAN 20 PEOPLE.

More information about education opportunities for parents will be coming in future reports. But for now, as you are interacting with parents, please think about those who will benefit from the “deep dive” that parents experience in the multi-day sessions.

Family and Community Engagement Training

In addition, the Prichard Committee provides a variety of training opportunities for school staff, families, and community members to learn how to work in partnership to support the academic success of all students in their public schools. We can also customize a training to meet your specific needs.

Family and Community Engagement in Public Schools

We provide a variety of workshops for families and community members to learn how to support the academic achievement of all students in their public schools. Along with our standard workshops, we can create content specific workshops which can address a variety of topics. We can also customize a workshop to meet your specific needs. Some of our standard workshops for Kentucky are:

- Governor's Commonwealth Institute for Parent Leadership (GCIPL) – 5 days - (all expenses included)
GCIPL is our signature training that develops a network of skilled parents and community leaders who are engaged as partners in decision-making and grassroots efforts to support academic achievement for all students in public schools. It takes place over one Friday/Saturday sessions and three Saturday session with all materials, meals, and accommodations provided to participants. Participants receive a year of coaching to support a project in a public school to involve other parents, improve student achievement, and have lasting impact.
- The Missing Piece of the Proficiency Puzzle – 6 hours - $ 1,000 plus expenses
School or district teams use a rubric to evaluate current practices to engage families and community members to improve student achievement. Teams are comprised of teachers, administrators, family members, community members or anyone working with families of the students.
- Parent Leadership 101 - 2 days - $5,500 plus expenses
A subset of our GCIPL Institute for parents which introduces them to academic standards, school data, and effective leadership techniques. Two facilitators provided.
- Parents and Teachers Talking Together – 5 hours - $1,000 plus expenses
Parents and teachers come together around two questions: “What do we want for our students?” and “How do we get what we want?” Comprised of a group of 30-35 participants; ideally made up of near-equal numbers of parents and educators. Two facilitators provided. Includes a meal provided by the contractor of workshop.
- Authentic Parent Engagement – 1 day - $2,500 plus expenses
A one-day workshop using a “train the trainers” model for educators (district teams) to build solid school-to-home relationships so that educators and parents work together to improve student achievement. Attendees receive a comprehensive notebook with complete curriculum, handouts, and more. Based on research showing parents will be involved when they know they should be, know they are capable, and feel welcome, educators will assess their attitudes and practices and link parent involvement to student achievement in their schools.

Why We Do It: Accountability for increased achievement for all students is bigger than a school activity. It has to be planned and intentional. To be an effective lever to improve learning for all students, accountability has to be a community responsibility. We have proven over the years that given the right information, tools, and supports, families and community members will become motivated to work together to with school staff to ensure quality education for all children – not just their own.
