Vacancy for Superintendent

The Floyd County Board of Education is seeking an outstanding educator with the leadership skills capable of extending the momentum of excellence of Floyd County Schools. The successful candidate must be student-centered, an advanced communicator, and demonstrate a commitment to high expectations and performance. Along with a record of raising student achievement, candidates should also possess a background of successful financial management in times of declining revenues.

The Floyd County School district is one of the major education reform success stories in Kentucky. The district, at one time under state management in the 1990's, has showed outstanding improvement over the past several years, having been named a Kentucky District of Distinction each year since 2013.

Floyd County has a population of approximately 37,000 and is located in eastern Kentucky. The county seat is Prestonsburg, which is located between Pikeville and Paintsville. The area prides itself with the location of Jenny Wiley State Park with 1,700 acres, a lodge, cottages and 700 seat convention center. The Mountain Arts Center in Prestonsburg hosts a variety of performers and audiences from across the state with seating for over 1,000 people.

The Floyd County Chamber of Commerce provides support for area businesses and for community growth. Approximate mileage to some of the metro areas: Lexington-120, Louisville-180, Cincinnati-190, and Knoxville-200.

Kentucky Superintendent certification is required. Salary is negotiable.

To apply, please go to KSBA's website - www.ksba.org. Click on the Superintendent Search tab (current searches). Under the ad, you will find the link to apply for this position.
