Pre-Show Questions

The church Christmas pageant is a tradition for the Bradley family, and many other families in the church community. What are some holiday traditions your family or community participate in every year?

Being in a Christmas pageant is similar to being in a play. Have you ever been in a play or pageant before? What was the most exciting part? Would you like to be in a play some day? Why or why not?

The holiday season is a time for giving to others. Many times during the Christmas season we are encouraged to give of our time, talents, or treasures to those who are less fortunate than we are. What are some ways you can selflessly give of your time, talents, or treasures to others in need?

Post-Show Questions

The Herdman kids decide to attend Sunday school because Charlie Bradley tells them that they get all the desserts they want at Sunday school. Why did Charlie tell this fib to the Herdmans? If a bully was taking your lunch and disrespecting your property, what would you do or tell them in order to stop their hurtful and offensive behavior?

Beth and Charlie Bradley, along with many other kids at Church, are not excited about the Christmas pageant again this year because it is always exactly the same, every single year. What were the differences I this year's pageant that made it anything but the same as usual?

How do you think the Herdman kids changed after being a part of the Christmas pageant? How do you think the other kids in the pageant changed after being a part of the pageant with the Herdmans?

The Christmas pageant did not go as originally planned, but everyone agreed that it was the best pageant ever. Has something you planned ever not gone the way you expected it to? How did this make you feel at first? How did you feel about the event when it was all over? What positive twists came from this event not going as planned?

Students will write an opinion piece about the play. They will give reasons and support their reasons with examples.
