Rationale for Field Trips

What educational objective does this field trip meet for your students?

RL.2.6 Acknowledge differences in the point of view in characters

How is this trip connected with or linked to the unit you are currently teaching in the classroom? What have you been teaching that leads to the value of this trip?

Students have used reader's theater to practice reading fluency, convey meaning, and practice elements of a play. This field trip will provide a real-world example of how actors apply these skills to drama. Students have also learned characters point of view within a story/drama.

What instructional follow-up activities will the student do upon returning from the field trip?

- continued use of reader's theater scripts
- writing a summary of the play
- compare/contrast of the play and book versions
- character points of view activities

How will the field trip enhance learning more than the regular classroom instruction on this topic or lesson?

Provides real-world application of the book as a play. Students will see elements of a play and fluency applied to drama.
