

The Kenton County Board of Education would like to recognize

Deborah Brock

for winning the

Presidential Award for Excellence

In

Mathematics and Science Teaching

This award is the highest honor bestowed by the United States government for K-12 mathematics and science teaching.

Deborah is one of four Kentucky teachers among 213 recipients across the country to win the 2019 award.

Along with a monetary award from the National Science Foundation, she is invited to Washington to attend a series of recognition events and professional development opportunities.

Deborah was a science teacher at Simon Kenton High School when she was nominated for this award. She is now an Academic Program Consultant for the District.
