Effectiveness Standards
for Kentucky School Superintendents

Revised 07-01-19

Prepared by
Kentucky Association of School Administrators
Design Team
for New Superintendent Leadership Series

In partnership with the Kentucky Department of Education

Historical Overview

In 2011-12, the Kentucky Association of School Administrators (KASA) began administering the state-required training and testing of new superintendents. As that work progressed, the need to more clearly define expectations for the performance of new superintendents became critical. KASA's Design Team for Onboarding New Superintendents asserted that a set of superintendent effectiveness standards focused on the emerging challenges of leading next-generation teaching and learning efforts were essential not only for new superintendents, but for experienced superintendents as well.

To that end, the Kentucky Department of Education sanctioned KASA's proposal to develop and pilot a set of superintendent effectiveness standards, beginning with the new superintendent training cohort of 2012-13 (Cohort 1). With KDE support, a series of revisions has occurred that has stream-lined the original standards. This revised work now serves as the framework for the "Superintendent Professional Growth and Effectiveness System" (S-PGES) for all Kentucky Superintendents.

Intent of the Standards

The Superintendent Professional Growth and Effectiveness System (S-PGES) Standards are intended to serve as:

- a framework for understanding the many complex elements of a superintendent's work to help him/her focus on the most important aspects of the job;
- a roadmap for the ongoing professional growth and effectiveness of Kentucky's superintendents from career entry (required training for new superintendents) through career exit;
- a basis upon which support for new superintendents can be individualized based on demonstrated performance in particular standards and indicators; and
- a basis upon which the new superintendent's support team can decide about successful completion of the state's induction program.

The S-PGES rubric is intended to illustrate proficient performance on the part of a superintendent. The Standards are not intended only for new superintendents. Inherent in the Standards is also the notion that no one individual will likely possess these competencies and skills; instead, it is important to recognize that the strengths of individuals on the superintendent's leadership team should ideally complement the other members' experiences and skills.

Organization of the Standards

These Kentucky Standards are organized and formatted as follows:

1. Standard — A broad heading of the superintendent's knowledge, skills, and abilities
2. Summary — A statement which describes the content and rationale of the standard
3. Practices— A statement which describes the evidence of what one would observe the superintendent doing to address each standard
4. Artifacts— A list of examples of potential sources of evidence for each standard
5. Competencies — A list of competencies which support effective practices in addressing the standards (to be placed at end of document)

Effectiveness Standards

1. Strategic Leadership
2. Instructional Leadership
3. Cultural Leadership
4. Human Resource Leadership
5. Managerial Leadership
6. Collaborative Leadership
7. Influential Leadership

Synthesis of Standards

The Standards referenced in this document represent a synthesis of several sets of existing standards, including the North Carolina Standards for Superintendents (2007). The North Carolina Standards were adapted from a Wallace Foundation study, Making Sense of Leading Schools: Study for the School Principalship (2004). The S-PGES Kentucky Standards also reflect the research of the Mid-continent Research for Education and Learning's School District Leadership that Works: The Effect of Superintendent Leadership on Student Achievement (2006), and are also aligned with the following resources:

- ISLLC Standards-Educational Leadership Policy Standards as adopted by the National Policy Board for Educational Administration (NPBEA)
- Performance Planning and Review for Superintendent Evaluation, Kentucky School Boards Association
- Standards for Quality School Systems, AdvancED
- Practices of Exemplary Leadership (Kouzes and Posner) cross-walked to the Standards
