I would love to choose the funding program AdoptaClassroom.org. This fundraising site is streamlined to be able to order from the vendor that has the ukuleles. The vendor is West Music, and is on our Bid List. It's a fairly easy process, and this class set will allow for every student to have a ukulele, and a couple spares for the teacher and any accidents that may happen during class (i.e. broken string). I believe the chance for upper elementary students to gain experience with stringed instruments can further their enrichment in music, and ukulele can be used to teach every element of music and can be a great resource for cross-curricular connections. During this time period where singing is unsafe, instruments remain at the forefront of music learning, and I am hoping that for the students at North Todd, the more instruments, the better. If approved, I would begin the application process immediately as I am hoping to introduce ukuleles in the spring semester at the earliest, but the intent is to introduce ukuleles in the fall of next year.
