

Hybrid Model

Cafe - added three cafe tables so most tables have 2 students some have 3, no students are sitting across from each other

Classroom - most classes range from 7 - 10 on a given set of days

Assessments have been easier to administer with smaller groups - we have pushed in all our support people to help teachers get them done quickly

Most of our assessments are one on one

We are making a list of possible students who may need to be retained - we hope to remediate through ESS tutoring or in summer programs - but we want to start having conversations with s

Next week we will start small groups back up in reading and math

Leader in me - teachers have continued to do daily lessons, we have kept our goal setting and leadership notebooks, we are working on doing our second virtual club

MTSS - We are creating a PBIS acronym with a matrix and posters - we will implement this next school year

We gave our first behavior screener - Angela will be getting back in the classrooms monthly to teach lessons and use the screener to identify students needing small groups

We have laid out our core curriculum in literacy and math so we are all on the same page

Just today afterschool we started new professional learning groups - we are having in house sessions that are based on brain research so we can align our beliefs and practices to move students forward
