The National Junior Beta Convention will take place this summer in Orlando, Florida from June 29th-July 2nd. Taking our club to Nationals is always a huge commitment and expense, but this year, with all of the CDC regulations, we had to make some executive decisions in order to participate at Nationals safely.

1. All parents/guardians will be responsible for paying for and making arrangements for all transportation, accommodations, meals, and/or experiences for their Beta and any additional family members.
2. There will be fundraising for select group experiences to be determined. Fundraising will not cover the cost of transportation, accommodations, or meals since these things will be paid for by each family independently.
3. The cost of our club fee for Nationals will be $50 per person (this fee is for Betas, parents, siblings, etc). The $50 is just for people, other than the Beta that is competing, who are interested in accessing the National Convention i.e. entering the building or watching competitions. This fee will cover the registration fees for Nationals, t-shirts, and select group experiences. It is a non-refundable fee.
