

EdRising is seeing growth across high school and collegiate chapters

The EdRising is seeing a new growth across high school and collegiate chapters across the state, and an increase in engagement. Here are some statistics:

- 46 schools are offering both the Teaching and Learning Pathway and an Educators Rising chapter.
- 13 schools have an EdRising chapter.
- 36 schools have a Teaching and Learning Pathway.
- 13 new EdRising chapters started in the 2021-22 school year.
There have been steady Teaching and Learning Pathway student enrollment increases over the past three school years.
- There are five EdRising Collegiate chapters (Bellarmine, Northern Kentucky University, Murray State University, Campbellsville University and Western Kentucky University).
- There are 10 university college educator preparation programs offering dual credit for Teaching and Learning Pathway courses.