The aforementioned coverage applies to negligent acts committed solely by employees of Riegler. Additionally, this schedule does not preclude the conditions, exclusions, limitations or coverage of each respective policy.

Pre-Construction Meeting

The purpose of a pre-construction meeting is to involve and direct you, our customer, through the logistical phases of the actual work and operating procedures for the scope of the work intended. At this time, the building of our customer relationship is critical. It is the intent of Riegler to have long-term customers that are pleased and trust our judgments on their particular construction needs. We strive for professionalism to ensure that you remain happily involved with Riegler for years to come.

The pre-construction meeting may be by telephone. We cannot stress enough the importance of accurately informing you of our exact procedure for the project from beginning to end. We will go over all challenges related to the job, from the first Riegler truck on the site to the clean up after the completion of the project.

On-site facilities

Money has been included for a dumpster. Riegler will handle all job related debris and haul such debris off site.

General Application Requirements and Restrictions

Riegler provides a safety monitor for all their projects to make sure all safety regulations are being followed. Riegler will take deliveries of all materials and protect all materials at all times. Riegler will keep grounds clean on a daily basis.
