I have lived with my wife in Nelson Co for 28 years. Both our daughters graduated from NCHS. I, however, graduated from Doss High in Louisville; where we had a student population over 850 students (1981). I found that many students in one location were difficult to manage and lead.. The staff spent more time in crowd control instead of education.

I am against the centralized school model being forced upon our community. It's clearly dividing the parents vs the administration.
