REPORTS

10) CHANGE TO THE BOYS & GIRLS BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT FORMAT

Assistant Commissioner Brian Lewis presented a proposal that would change the format of the IHSAA Boys and Girls Basketball State Tournaments by switching the regional and semi-state formats. The regional would become a one-game championship on Saturday with the semi-state round a two-game format the following Saturday. This would be effective with next winter’s tournaments (2022-23 school year). The previous format of a two-round regional and a single semi-state game had been in place since 2002.

Regional pairings will be drawn and announced at the same time as the traditional sectional pairings with two regional championship games being played at the same site and potentially from different classes. Another new wrinkle includes conducting an additional blind draw and announcing the semi-state pairings the day after the regional championship games on IHSAAtv.org.

This spring, Commissioner Paul Neidig conducted a survey of principals, athletic directors, boys and girls coaches and 73.4% of those 781 respondents voted in favor of changing the format with at least 70% in all four groups approving. Those results are below:

Athletic Directors:	Yes	No	Percentage:
