Data & Instructional Planning | For Administrators, Specialists and Teachers

Increase transparency

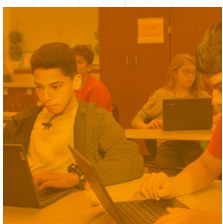

Ensure that the key data & program information needed to meet diverse program requirements are in one convenient place - not multiple spreadsheets, folders and complicated data platforms.

Teacher Capacity | For Coaches and Teachers

Differentiate with skill and confidence

Empower teachers of every subject and grade to differentiate instruction for ELs with skill and confidence while engaging all students in sound pedagogical practices.

Academic Language | For Students

Prepare students to access rigorous, grade-level content

Prepare ELs to understand in-class instruction by teaching them the academic language they must know to access rigorous, grade-level math content.

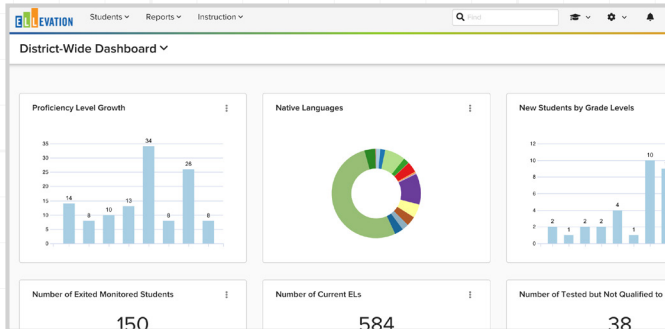

"I now have the freedom to address pedagogical issues because I'm not worrying about data requirements, home language surveys, placement tests and parent notification letters. With Ellevation making those processes so much simpler and more efficient, my team and I can spend more time thinking about instruction and how we can better support these students."
