FSHS LIBRARY DUAL CREDIT & STUDY AREA PROPOSAL

Submitted by:
Mary Beth Schlosser
Librarian, FSHS

marybeth.schlosser@simpson.kyschools.us

Each year the students at FSHS have the opportunity to take dual credit classes through both SKYCTC and WKU. While some of these meet in person, many students elect to take online classes. They have time set aside in their schedule to work on these classes in the FSHS library. This wonderful program allows students to graduate with college credit hours they can use toward their future education, directly meeting the FSHS mission “to empower all students to graduated college and/or career ready.” It also gives them the experience of navigating college level coursework and expectations, while still receiving support from the FSHS staff.

Libraries are active places that are no longer always the quiet spaces of the past. Having designated space for students to work on their dual credit courses as well as provide space for other students looking for a place to work and study when needed will benefit the students in these classes who need to be able to focus and work through their assignments.

Additionally, the FSHS library furniture in general is aging and in need of upgrades to more modern, functional systems. The items in this grant prioritize dual credit students’ needs, but will also start the process of an overall upgrade to the look, feel, and function of the library.

The five tables and 30 chairs requested have flexible seating functionality. Students can work individually or with others taking the same class or working on the same project. The tables have outlets that will allow students to charge their devices as they work, which is important when working on an all online class.

Delivery of these items is estimated to be less than two weeks. Once assembled, they will immediately be put to use in the FSHS library for the students who are currently enrolled in online dual credit courses as well as all future students. The tables and chairs will be paired with resources specific to students’ needs as they navigate college level coursework. These tables and chairs will provide a homebase for housing materials as well as a workspace for students.

Perhaps the most important part of creating a space that prioritizes our dual credit program at FSHS is that it shows this is a valuable part of our curriculum, and we are ready to support the students enrolled in these courses with our space, time, and resources. The goal is to increase the support students receive as well as create increased interest and enrollment in dual credit courses.
