

The After-School Instructor for High School Students is responsible for providing guidance, support, and mentorship to high school students participating in the after-school program. This role involves building positive relationships with students, assisting with academic and personal development, and serving as a role model and advocate for their success.

1. Build trusting and supportive relationships with high school students, serving as a positive role model and mentor.
2. Provide guidance and encouragement to students in setting and achieving academic, personal, and career goals.
3. Listen actively to students' concerns, offering empathy, understanding, and constructive feedback.
4. Provide academic tutoring and support in specific subject areas as needed.
5. Help students develop effective time management and organizational skills to improve academic performance.
6. Promote positive peer relationships and foster a supportive and inclusive after-school community.
7. Facilitate engagement activities to support a positive learning experiences within the school and with peers.