If an employee holds more than one title they shall receive the number of extended days for the position which has the most number of days and/or the stipend of the position that holds the largest stipend.

SBDM councils have the authority to use SBDM money to pay individual classified employees for extra services, i.e., more hours than their job descriptions/contracts provide. The councils would need to reflect an understanding in their minutes that any decision by a council to do this would also require the council to be responsible for any overtime costs they incur as well as extra fringe costs.
