JCPS-NCFL Family Engagement Partnership 2024-25

The National Center for Families Learning (NCFL) proposes the following professional development and district support plan of action for family-school partnership and engagement in Jefferson County Public Schools (JCPS) Early Childhood for the 2024-25 school year. The primary goal of the partnership between NCFL and JCPS is to expand and amplify family-school partnership and engagement efforts within early childhood. This includes providing professional development driven by action plans and supported by data—for staff, school administrators, families, and community networking partners—that is culturally and linguistically responsive and focuses on families’ and students’ needs and goals.

The National Center for Families Learning (NCFL) works to eradicate poverty through education solutions for families. Our vision is to create comprehensive, coordinated family learning systems in diverse locations nationwide to create equitable communities. NCFL’s family learning systems unite family engagement, family literacy, and family leadership initiatives across birth – adulthood to build high-quality, aligned learning pathways. These pathways bring together educators, families, and communities to engage in innovative, research-based education opportunities. A hallmark of NCFL’s approach is to ensure programming supports multi-generational outcomes so that children and their parenting adults both achieve their learning goals. Since our inception in 1989, we have reached over 4.5 million families across 39 states and 150 communities.

PROPOSED SCOPE OF WORK

Strategy 1: Family Engagement Support

Objective: Deepen family-school partnerships through dual capacity-building coaching for school staff across JCPS Early Childhood.

Participants: JCPS Early Childhood administrators, teachers, and support staff

Activities:

- Initial leadership consultation: NCFL Specialists will offer opportunities to meet with administrators from each center to gain a better understanding of current culturally and linguistically responsive practices, instructional strategies, and family engagement opportunities. NCFL will review parent feedback and assessment data to help determine the needs of each location.
- Professional Learning: NCFL will develop and facilitate a one-hour professional learning session focused on family engagement to be delivered at the beginning of the school year. The session will be offered up to three times to accommodate all early childhood team members.
- Family Engagement Support for JCPS Early Childhood Centers: NCFL will work with JCPS staff to identify two early childhood centers to receive intensive coaching support.
 - Participating schools will receive targeted professional development, networking opportunities, and monthly coaching support for their school’s family engagement team. Learning opportunities will support the development and capacity-building of school-based family engagement teams. School teams, whose goal is to create and sustain family-school partnerships focused on improved student educational outcomes, will be supported. Through participation in this opportunity, schools commit to forming a family engagement team that:
