Bishop Brossart	Are there any instances where a student-athlete may have any part of the financial obligation to the member school paid directly or indirectly by individuals outside of the student's immediate family (student's father, mother, brother, sister, step-father, step-mother, step-brother, step-sister, husband, wife, aunt, uncle, grandparent)?	Answered Yes	6/20/24	Rob Braun	Can you explain what those instances are for any students?	Rob misunderstood the question and didn't see "grandparent". In both instances, the tuition was paid by a grandparent.
Christian Academy-Louisville	Were there any cases where a student-athlete was more than sixty (60) days deficient in the payment of tuition, necessary fees, costs or other charges?	Due to financial circumstances, payment plans were established. Similar allowances were made for non-athletes as well.	6/20/24	Brad Morgan	Did that athlete participate during that time? If so, was it varsity? What sport?	She only participated through 40 days deficient before being eliminated from postseason.

Frankfort	60 days Deficient		6/20/24	Amy Dungan	You mentioned that 25 athletes were unable to meet the financial obligations of the school. You also put that they were more than 60 days past due. Did these athletes participate during that time? If so, was it varsity? What sport(s)?	Frankfort did an overhaul of their financial aid policies after 22-23 to adjust. They have also cleaned up collection dates, due dates, etc. They do not charge tuition, this is the out of district student fee.
Frankfort Christian			6/20/24	Carrie Tiggs	In the survey you mentioned a scholarship from Capital City Christian Church. It also mentions, "They govern that scholarship, the recipients, and disbursement. They decide who receives it and send money on their behalf to the school." Does the church send the money directly to you for a specific student?	The Principal confirmed for 22-23, three families received the CCCC scholarship in 2022-23. None were high school athletes. I also advised them to clean this up going forward in case an athlete is selected.
Heritage Christian		*uses a graduated scale based on adjusted gross income from income tax documents. Also, the school offers a $2500 discount for students whose parents are pastors in the local community. Students who qualify receive discounts on tuition do so based on adjusted gross income and the number of students in the family. Based on those two factors, families may receive up to a 50% tuition discount.	6/20/24	John Walsh	Can you explain how this is used in conjunction with FACTs? Or is this totally separate?	All students are treated the same upon enrollment. No athlete has access to a greater discount than any other student. We use Facts to verify that the discount we applied (if any) meets KhSAA requirements. If I understand correctly, FACTs will give us a max amount eligible and if our discount/ financial aid is too high (which it hasn't been) then we have limit the discount to what FACTs determines.
Highlands	Does any F-1 exchange student pay less than the full, unsubsidized cost of education? Holy Cross (Covington)			6/20/24	Mike Holtz	Butler Foundation was mentioned as an entity that provides funds for student in need. Can you explain how the school handles those funds? Do the students selected to receive the funds still apply through FACTs prior to accepting the funds? Do you ever exceed the amount of aid that FACTs determines? You also listed 6 athletes who did not meet the financial obligations of the school. You mentioned that 2 were accommodated through payment plans. Were they past 60 days due? If so, did either athlete participate during that time? If so, was it varsity? What sport(s)?	Butler Foundation they provide funds for students in need, they do not pick students. School chooses. FACTs report and pick that way, min GPA, etc. Student specifics were answered about the wrong year, resent Mike the questions to answer for 2022-23. Mike did submit the correct answers, For the 2022-23 school year all athletes meet their financial obligations. For the 2022-23 school year all athletes maintained payment plans.

Lexington Catholic			6/20/24	Dave Nurnberg	You mentioned 7 athletes were unable to meet financial obligations of the school. The survey stated that families must meet with the controller to discuss options. Were they past 60 days due? If so, did any of the athletes participate during that time? If so, was it varsity? What sport(s)?	Of our 7, 4 were students who were withdrawn while still owing a balance. Two of them had end of year charges upon graduation (missing uniform or book), and only 1 of them had a delinquent balance during the school year. That student would not have been permitted to play a spring sport had he wanted to do so, but he did not.

You also mentioned 1 athlete was unable to meet the financial obligations of the school. You also stated that they were more than 60 days past due. Did these athletes participate during that time? If so, was it varsity? What sport(s)? You also mentioned 1 athlete was unable to meet the financial obligations of the school. You also stated that they were more than 60 days past due. Did these athletes participate during that time? If so, was it varsity? What sport(s)?	"Outside organizations" generally includes students' parishes. There are several parishes that award scholarships to graduating 8th graders to use at Catholic high schools. The athlete who was more than 60 days behind did not participate in athletics during the time her family was behind on tuition. Yes, we make sure to check the family's FACTS application before accepting scholarships from outside organizations.
St. Henry				Jim Demler	You mentioned, "Outside scholarships are awarded to students that individually apply for those opportunities. Scholarship criterias are determined by each organization providing the award." Can you explain this further? Do these organizations send the money to the school for the selected winner? You also answered yes to the question about any part of the financial obligation to the member school paid directly or indirectly by individuals outside of the student's immediate family (student's father, mother, brother, sister, step-father, step-mother, step-brother, step-sister, husband, wife, aunt, uncle, grandparent)? Can you explain who else would be paying?	No, outside scholarships are not awarded by the school and the school has no say on how they are applied. Per Canon Law 537 donations made must be applied per the donors directions. These are scholarships that the students have been given from outside organizations because of merit, essay, grade schools, etc. They are applied as directed by the donors. Sue will have to verify my answer to question number 2. As far as I know just friends, but Nick did live with them after his grandfather passed. Nick played varsity baseball.

The junior was a manager for the basketball team. Chris Tinius, our assistant athletic director checked on this for me. He stated that none of the 7 participated in a varsity contest.
