WILLIAM L. "BUZZY" NEWMAN

Qualities of a Level-5 Leader

- They are self-confident enough to set up their successors for success.
- They are humble and modest.
- They have unwavering resolve.
- They display a “workman's diligence – more plow horse than show horse.”
- They give credit to others for their success and take full responsibility for poor results.
- They attribute much of their success to good luck rather than personal greatness.
