Peak Moments

- Kindergarten students from Glasscock Elementary visited MCHS to learn about agriculture from students in the high school's Ag program.

Peak Moments

- MCMS recently had two staff vs. student competitions: an academic team match and a volleyball game.

Peak Moments

- WMES students recently studied Greek mythology with a culminating activity that included literacy activities and dressing up as Greek gods and goddesses.

Student Success

- MCHS senior Abigail Caldwell had her banner design selected to be on display at the KSBA conference.
- Caldwell is in Ginger Allen's Graphic Design class and will complete the Graphic Design pathway this year.

Vibrant Learning

- LES Third-grader Lucas Lawson won his class's competition to have a 3-D design printed using a 3-D printer. Lawson designed a model of the Millennium Falcon because of his interest in Star Wars.
- LES art teacher Charles Ramey received the 3-D printer through the district's funding request application last year.

Vibrant Learning

- MCMS teacher Carrie Thompson organized a Holocaust museum for the school's library featuring artifacts from local families, items on loan from a museum, and student projects.
- Students read novels and informational text on the Holocaust during the unit.
