

FBLA

At the end of June, I took five students with me to Anaheim, CA to participate in the FBLA National Leadership Conference. Four of the five students were competing in events at the National level, and one was there as a voting delegate.

Logan Begley - Cybersecurity

Caleb Perkins - Computer Applications

Reagan Skidmore - International Business

Brayden Haywood - Website Coding and Design

Angel Smallwood - Voting Delegate

These students have worked hard all year practicing and honing their skills in these areas, they won at regional and state levels to be considered qualified candidates to compete at the National level. While we didn't place this year, I couldn't be more proud of these students, their dedication, and their achievements throughout the year. Also, I want to especially thank Megan Skidmore for going as my other chaperone on the trip. I couldn't have done this without her help and the joint efforts of everyone that was involved this year!
