Considerations for Revision

March 2025

Historical Overview

In 2011-12, the Kentucky Association of School Administrators (KASA) began administering the state-required training and testing for new superintendents. During this process, the need for clearly defined expectations for superintendent performance became critical. KASA's Design Team for Onboarding New Superintendents emphasized the necessity of a comprehensive framework to address the emerging challenges of leading next-generation teaching and learning efforts.

The Kentucky Department of Education (KDE) supported the development and piloting of the Superintendent Effectiveness Standards with the first training cohort in 2012-13 (Cohort 1). Over time, these standards were revised and streamlined, eventually forming the foundation of the Superintendent Professional Growth and Effectiveness System (S-PGES).

For 2025, these standards have been further modernized to reflect the evolving responsibilities of superintendents as executive leaders. The updates streamline the framework by consolidating the standards into five critical areas of leadership while retaining the comprehensive scope of the original seven standards. These updates address contemporary priorities such as virtual learning, community engagement, and equity, reinforcing the superintendent's essential role in modeling and upholding the highest leadership standards within their district. The standards also emphasize that success depends on the superintendent's ability to collaborate effectively with the Board of Education. A strong partnership between the superintendent and board is critical for creating and sustaining a unified vision for student success.

Intent of the Standards

The Superintendent Effectiveness Standards are designed to:

- Streamline and simplify the framework, focusing on the superintendent's most impactful leadership responsibilities while reflecting the evolving needs of districts.
- Serve as a guiding framework for understanding the complex and multifaceted nature of the superintendent's work, helping them focus on the most significant areas of leadership.
- Provide a roadmap for ongoing professional growth and effectiveness from career entry (new superintendent training) through career exit.
- Establish clear expectations for modeling best practices and maintaining accountability, ensuring superintendents hold themselves to the highest ethical, professional, and leadership standards.
- Support individualized professional development for new superintendents and assist in evaluating the successful completion of the state's induction program.
- Reinforce that while no single superintendent may excel in every standard, their leadership team should collectively demonstrate the full breadth of knowledge, skills, and competencies required to meet district goals.

The Standards underscore the superintendent's role as the ultimate model of best practices, setting the tone for their district and fostering a culture of excellence and accountability.

Organization of the Standards

The Kentucky Superintendent Effectiveness Standards are organized into six key areas that outline the superintendent's leadership responsibilities:

1. Standard — A broad heading that captures the superintendent's critical knowledge, skills, and abilities.
2. Summary — A concise statement explaining the purpose and rationale of the standard.
3. Practices — Observable actions and behaviors that demonstrate proficiency in meeting the standard.
4. Artifacts — Examples of best practice evidence that illustrate effective leadership practices for each standard; not required or exhaustive.

Shaping the Superintendent Standards

The KASA Next Generation Superintendent Effectiveness Standards (Revision 13) was the foundation for developing this modernized framework. Building upon this established foundation, superintendents and current board members from across Kentucky collaborated to draft a document that reflects the evolving responsibilities and expectations of superintendents in today's educational landscape.

This revision process included input from a diverse range of educational leaders who worked to ensure the updated standards aligned with the needs of districts, communities, and the state's commitment to equity and excellence in education.

Over a 12-month pilot period, superintendents and boards of education from districts of varying sizes across Kentucky implemented this streamlined framework to evaluate superintendents' work. Their feedback was critical in refining the standards to ensure they were practical and impactful in guiding superintendent performance.

This ongoing collaboration underscores the commitment to continuous improvement and shared accountability for advancing the success of Kentucky's public education system.
