HYPE Student Leadership Conferences

Takeaways to help
Board and Staff

The KHSAA Student Advisory Group and Association staff conducted our Annual HYPE Student Leadership Conferences at the Central Bank Center in Lexington.

General Commentary

Over 500 students from member schools participated in either day of the two HYPE Student Leadership Conferences. These conferences were planned and executed by the KHSAA Student Advisory Group.

This year's group members are: Vivian Fox (Elizabethtown), Addison Hales (Greenwood), Mia Hechavarria (Evangel Christian), Claire James (South Oldham), Alannah Kues (Newport Central Catholic), Chiani Leak (Hopkinsville), Milyn Minor (Scott), Cariann Williams (Edmonson County), Carter Bernard (Grayson County), Tyson Cavinder (Hopkinsville), Owen McCormack (Beechwood) and Peter Wagner (Great Crossing).

All facets on the day of the event were the responsibility of the students. This year's group did an outstanding job of taking on the role of managing and leading the event.

Topics for attendees included brain mapping and preparing for life after high school, team building exercises and healthy relationship and communication building.

Our keynote speakers were Jason Michaels sharing the goal of "Do the Impossible" and Deb Hult on "Why I can!".

Thank you to the Board for continuing to fund and support this event. The Association celebrated its 25th year of conducting its conferences, one of the longest in the country.
