Takeaways to help
Board and Staff

I was asked (and accepted) to present a one hour presentation on current legal issues in interscholastic athletics at this year's Kentucky Athletics Administrators Association Conference. The title of my presentation was "Know The Law, Protect the GameLegal Responsibilities in High School Sports". It addressed issues with first amendment law regarding students and coaches, the transgender issues before the US Supreme Court, recent legislation, Dues Process, and recent changes in Bylaws and the regulation.

General Commentary

There continues to be substantial engagement at this event. The majority of the seats in the room were taken with some opting to stand. This conference continues to be a great opportunity for many of our staff members to get in front of our athletic administrators and help maintain and strengthen the working relationships between ADs and the KHSAA. As a service organization to our member schools, we all appreciate the Commissioner and the Board allowing us to take advantage of these opportunities.
