RE: PLC Professional Learning

Zoneton Middle School would like approval to partner with Treadway Consulting to provide targeted professional learning for our school leaders on the Professional Learning Communities (PLC) process.

This training directly supports our school's improvement priorities by strengthening a consistent, high-quality instructional framework across all classrooms. Through this work, leaders will build capacity to effectively implement and monitor the PLC process, including analyzing student data, aligning instruction, developing common assessments, and responding to student needs through targeted interventions.

The proposed training includes multiple sessions throughout the school year to ensure sustained implementation, coaching, and progress monitoring.
