Kentucky Agriculture Poster and Essay Contest, Colson Barone

We’re thrilled to announce that Colson Barone has been selected as the Kentucky 1st place 5th grade winner in the Kentucky Agriculture Poster and Essay Contest provided by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture and Kentucky Ag and Environment in the Classroom. With this year’s theme, “Bluegrass Roots, Agriculture Strong,” students across Kentucky brought their best ideas forward—and Colson's work rose above the rest.

Congratulations, Colson!

4-H Communications Contest, Poppy Hutchens and Barrett Lanich

Poppy and Barrett competed in the C7/C8 Area 4-H Communication Contest. They were each the champions in their age category! Barrett's speech was about how to be a hero and how doing one small, kind deed can make a big change. Poppy's was about strawberries; the different kinds, how to plant them, and what to make with them.

They competed in front of their class, school grade level, county, district, and won all those competitions for their age group. They will both be competing at the state level in Lexington in July.

Congratulations and good luck this summer!
